

WATERSHED

ENVIRONMENTAL POETRY FESTIVAL

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13 • NOON TO 4:30 PM • FREE TO THE PUBLIC
CIVIC CENTER PARK • MLK JR. WAY AT CENTER STREET • BERKELEY

POETRY, MUSIC & ENVIRONMENTAL ACTIVISM

Robert Hass, U.S. Poet Laureate 1995-97, Poetry Flash the Ecology Center/
Berkeley Farmers' Market, and Pegasus Books Downtown invite you to celebrate writers, nature and community at the 23rd Annual Watershed Environmental Poetry Festival, part of 100 Thousand Poets for Change.

RESERVE YOUR EXHIBIT SPACE, NOW!

- River Village is an exhibit area for poets, writers, and organizations to share their work. Environmental groups and organizations representing any aspect of the creative writing or literary community, such as small press publishers or literary magazines, are warmly welcome.
- Exhibit spaces are located within the grass circle at Martin Luther King, Jr. Park, providing clear view of stage performances and readings.
- Your application fee helps us to offset costs, including sanitation facilities, permits, fees, insurance, and security. Thank you.

RIVER VILLAGE GUIDELINES

- WATERSHED permits the sale of sweat-shirts, t-shirts, buttons, bumper stickers, books, magazines, and other literature as well as CDs and environmental art. Soliciting donations for your organization is okay.
- When a group's fee is waived, that organization agrees to provide volunteer support to help us set up and close the festival.
- Festival Schedule Saturday, October 13, 2018:
 - River Village set up (unload on Allston Way) 11:00 - 11:45 a.m.
 - Strawberry Creek Walk 10:00 - 11:30 a.m.
 - WATERSHED Festival main stage Noon - 4:30 p.m.
 - River Village take down 4:30 - 5:30 p.m.
- For more information:
 - Tel 510.525.5476 watershed@poetryflash.org
